July 24th 2019: AI At Work: Ready to Meet Your Robot Co-Workers?

Who's at the desk next to me? What – a robot? The buzz: "They record our shows, cook our food, play our music, and even run our cars. We just don't see it because these "robots" don't have a face we can talk to or a butt we can kick. I know four things robots can do right now that will change our lives for the future, and all in a good way. The first is entertainment (done that), the second is grunt work in dangerous places (coming up), third is elderly care, and last but not least is telepresence shopping, tourism, and assistance" (Mark W. Tilden, robot physicist www.theguardian.com). How wil
